

The challenge

As the demand for more sustainable office supplies continues to rise, there is a growing need to replace fossil-based packaging materials by renewable packaging solutions.

Switch to our recycled super strong notes in plastic-free recycled packaging - make a difference

Recycled super strong

Our recycled super strong UPM Notes are made from 100% recycled paper and aim to meet the demand for more sustainable office products while helping reduce plastic waste. Instead of the conventional plastic packaging, they are packed in cardboard boxes made from recycled material, thus reducing the demand for virgin raw materials and promoting circular economy. The sturdy cardboard packaging reliably protects the sticky notes while enabling the end-user to easily identify its content. Both the sticky notes and their cardboard packaging are certified as recyclable by PTS (tested according to the "Cepi Recyclability Laboratory Test Method V2") and can easily be disposed of in the paper bin.

All recycled UPM Notes are coated with our water-based microsphere adhesive. They are not only FSC™-certified (FSC C003094), but also certified with the Blue Angel, the oldest eco-label in the world. With these super strong and durable sticky notes, you can organize tasks, collect ideas, mark learning content, or leave short messages - simply attach and reposition them on whiteboards, documents, folders, laptops, or wherever you need them.
